

THE Way Cool Band

The Way Cool Band consists of Tiller's Folly and is one of two musical cover acts that the Tiller's Folly's musicians perform with when they are not touring the world. This band has been first call with most of the special events producers in the Vancouver and Whistler area for the past 12 years. Some of the finest musicians in the Pacific Northwest, key members include Laurence Knight, Bruce Coughlan and World Bluegrass Champion Nolan Murray.

They have performed and recorded with such artists as Brenda Lee, John Fogarty, Loretta Lynn, Jerry Doucette, The Sun Rhythm Section (Elvis's 1st band) to name but just a few, and Nolan was recently recording with legendary Rolling Stones producer Andrew Oldham. This background and experience gives the band the ability to play all these styles of music with seamless professionalism, energy and confidence. Moreover, the band is able to expand to suit any engagement with access to the best musicians the Greater Vancouver area has to offer.

They can perform your favorite songs - requests are always welcome - from the "Baby Boomer" era; a variety of classic pop with music ranging from 1950's Rock & Rollers like Presley, Orbison and the Everlys, 1960's icons like the Beatles, Rolling Stones & Beach Boys, mega stars of the 1970's like the Eagles, Eric Clapton & Steve Miller as well as 80's popsters like Fleetwood Mac, Tom Petty & The Travelling Willberries; and today's artists like James Blunt. The following list is a but a small sample of the 1000s of songs they know and perform.
